Birmingham revealed as the city most prepared for Christmas

Surge in parcel deliveries shows Brummies lead the way in early Christmas shopping.

Welwyn Garden City, 11 December 2019: Birmingham is the city in the UK most organised with its Christmas shopping, new data from PayPoint reveals.

Based on the number of parcels delivered in the weeks leading up to and including Black Friday as part of PayPoint's Collect+ network – which enables consumers to collect packages at up to 7,000 convenience stores across the UK – Brummies received comfortably the most. The 9,467 deliveries in Birmingham were ahead of Belfast in second place, where residents picked up 7,946 parcels, and Glasgow in third place with 7,455. Liverpool and Manchester make up the remainder of the top five, with 7,257 and 7,203 parcels delivered across the month of November respectively.

As many shoppers across the country got in early with their festive shopping and took advantage of the Black Friday sales, data by PayPoint also reveals that the most popular day to pick up parcels this year was Monday 2nd December, where parcels were up 40% when compared to the previous Monday.

Gary Winter, Parcels Director at PayPoint, commented: "As we enter the festive period, our Collect+ service gives consumers increased flexibility by allowing them to pick up parcels at a time and location to suit them. With Black Friday getting bigger every year, analysis of our data shows that Birmingham residents are most prepared with their buying of Christmas presents for loved ones and we've seen lots of new customers flocking into local stores across the city, supporting convenience retailers at a critical time of the year."
