

HV Kingsley wins national award for outstanding customer service

31 OCTOBER 16: Central London convenience store, HV Kingsley, has today been named the UK's best CollectPlus location in the brand's quarterly awards programme, which recognises excellent customer satisfaction and service levels over the period July to September 2016.

CollectPlus is the UK's largest independent store-based delivery and returns service, and offers a convenient way for people to collect online purchases or return unwanted items to more than 360 high street and online retailers, including John Lewis, Very and ASOS – all at their local convenience store.

Situated close to Finsbury Square, HV Kingsley is less than half a mile from Liverpool Street Station and provides a wide range of goods and services, including food and drink for commuters and city workers. David and his hardworking staff diligently provide excellent service to customers leading to their recognition by CollectPlus as the UK's 'Store of the Quarter'.

The store, surrounded by numerous other shops, cafes and bars, joined the CollectPlus network in February 2013, and has regular store hours of 6am to 6pm Monday to Friday.

David Poluck, Owner of HV Kingsley, said:

"I am very pleased to win the CollectPlus Store of the Quarter award and to see our hard work is paying off in our customer feedback scores. We joined the CollectPlus network in order to offer additional services to customers, and it's definitely brought people into the shop who wouldn't have stepped in otherwise. We often find that CollectPlus customers will buy other items while they're in the store. I love seeing new faces, meeting new people and being on my feet all day – it makes my job a lot more enjoyable."

The CollectPlus 'Store of the Quarter' awards programme recognises the best stores in the CollectPlus network of 5,800 newsagents, convenience stores, petrol stations and supermarkets. HV Kingsley was judged to be amongst the very best in the company's nationwide network with an impressive customer rating of 4.99 out of 5.

David was presented with his award by Neil Ashworth, CEO at CollectPlus, who said:

"I'm delighted to present the Store of the Quarter Award to HV Kingsley, and especially to David and the rest of his team after their great success in the CollectPlus network. It's great to see our partnership not only provide a convenient service to existing customers of stores like HV Kingsley, but also to boost their footfall and turnover. This store, its atmosphere and its levels of activity make it a great example of how independent retail is thriving in the UK, and we are really proud to be associated with this vibrant business."

Research has demonstrated that stores benefit from offering the CollectPlus service, as two-thirds (67%) of customers dropping off or collecting a parcel, across the network, are visiting that particular store for the first time. The research also showed that stores in the network take an average of £3,095 a year in additional revenue, on top of the chance to be crowned winners in the quarterly and annual store awards scheme.

Founded in 2009, CollectPlus is a joint venture between PayPoint, the leading retail payment network, and independent parcel carrier, Yodel. For more information visit www.collectplus.co.uk.
