We're proud to continue to work with PayPoint to offer this exclusive opportunity for our members and would encourage any interested retailers to put their names forward before the deadline on 15th December."

PayPoint retailer Judy Mercer, of Hamilton News, Belfast) said: "When we saw the opportunity to become a Park Christmas Savings Super Agent, it was a bit of a no brainer, mainly as there's a clear benefit financially. In the current economic climate, any additional revenue and security is welcome, and I'm sure that's true among almost all retailers of our size in the UK. One of the main reasons we partner with PayPoint is because of the large range of additional services and opportunities to earn they bring to the table."
